Off the back of 2017's brand new single 'Half Asleep', Sydney's indie video pop project Enerate, are set to release 'Transit Lounge'. This will be the 2nd single from their anticipated debut album 'Good Times Airlines', which is also set for release the same day.

Enerate are perhaps best known for their synth pop debut Unstoppable, which recieved a lot of presenter love on Triple J Unearthed. It's loveable music video premiered in prime time on ABC TV's RAGE alongside Tame Impala, and Flume. In addition, the song was featured internationally on MTV's teen drama 'Awkward.'

Enerate's latest single 'Transit Lounge' is a spacious ethereal synth pop song about moving forward from uncertain times. Futuristic synths and a down tempo house beat move the track along under the anthemic soaring vocals of Josh Graham and Therese Watson.

Enerate have always been passionate about making anything they do a multisensory experience. They've taken this concept to the next level with their album, "Good Times Airlines". Their debut album will be released as an app, each track with it's own interactive music video. This integration of music, colour and gaming as an album, is a truly unique and innovative concept, taking interactive videos to a whole new level. Check out the teaser here:
